Welcome to The Fair Lawn Jewish Center/ Congregation B'nai Israel

Shabbat Shalom and/or Chag Sameakh!

The purpose of this booklet is to provide you with a brief introduction to our synagogue and worship service.

We hope that you feel at home during our service, and experience the joy of communal worship. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to approach our Rabbi, Cantor or regular worshipers following services.

History

The founding members of our Congregation came mainly from the Paterson area and began moving into Fair Lawn in the 1940's. As the Jewish population of Fair Lawn increased to 350 families, the desire and need for Fair Lawn to have its own synagogue was becoming increasingly apparent.

In 1945, Max E. Bornstein stated before the Planning Board of the Jewish Community Council that they should "secure, buy or erect a building in Fair Lawn to be used as a Jewish Community Center." Fundraising began.

Jewish families were moving to Fair Lawn in large numbers from the entire metropolitan area. The property of the present-day site was purchased and planning began. The overwhelming majority wanted affiliation with the Conservative movement. Ground was broken, and the Center, though much smaller at that time, became a reality.

The Fair Lawn Jewish Center is proud of being the very first synagogue in Fair Lawn. We offer twice-daily services, Shabbat and holiday services, egalitarian and traditional services, a Hebrew School and a Nursery School. The Men's Progress Club and Sisterhood are vital auxiliary arms of the congregation. A large Judaic library along with one of the largest ballrooms and sanctuaries in the area exist for members and non-members.

Ritual Items in Our Sanctuary

Holy Ark - Aron HaKodesh

Directly in front of you is the Aron HaKodesh (Holy Ark), within which are kept the Sifrei Torah (Torah scrolls). Each scroll contains the Five Books of Moses written as tradition has commanded for thousands of years. These Torah scrolls are our most sacred possessions as a congregation and community. The scrolls are taken from the Ark during the Shabbat service when the weekly portion is read. The cycle of readings is so arranged that during the course of one year we read, study and discuss all or part of the entire scroll. Each scroll is meticulously handwritten in Hebrew on parchment, without vowels or musical notes. Each Torah is covered with a decorative mantle, a silver breast plate and a yad (pointer) to help the reader keep his/her place. A keter Torah (silver crown) or rimonim (finials) decorate the top of each Torah scroll.

Eternal Light - Ner Tamid

A Ner Tamid (eternal light) hangs directly above the Aron HaKodesh as a symbol of the permanence of the Torah and Jewish faith. It represents the constancy of God's presence and the continuance of the Jewish people.

Prayer Shawl - Tallit

The tallit, prayer shawl, is required to be worn by Jewish adult males during morning services. A woman may wear one if she voluntarily assumes this religious obligation. The fringes on the corners of the tallit serve to remind us of God's commandments.

Head Covering - Kippah

The kippah, in Hebrew, or yarmulke in Yiddish, is the head covering worn to show reverence for God. All men who attend services, including non-Jews, are expected to wear a head covering. Women may choose to wear one. However, everyone is required to wear a head covering when on the bimah (the raised platform in front of the Sanctuary) or if he/she is wearing a tallit.

Prayer Book - Siddur Sim Shalom

The Siddur Sim Shalom, the small grey book in the pews, is the prayer book which we use during the service. It is read from right to left as it is written in Hebrew. This pamphlet contains a guide to the prayers in the Siddur. Our prayers follow a fixed liturgy and we add our own heartfelt intentions and personal words to the traditional texts.

Torah – Humash

The Humash, Etz Hayim, the large maroon book in the pews, contains the text of the Torah or Five Books of Moses, the Haftarah or prophetic portion for each week, and extensive commentary. The English translation and commentary allow everyone to study our weekly portion as it is read during the Torah service.

Our Clergy

Our RABBI is the spiritual leader of our synagogue. Rabbis are teachers who interpret Jewish Law for the congregation throughout the year. During a worship service a rabbi may teach the Torah reading, deliver a sermon and guide us through the service by announcing the page number or interpreting the prayers.

INTRODUCTION

Our HAZZAN (Cantor) chants the Shabbat service. Although Judaism believes that each worshiper must pray for himself or herself, the cantor leads the congregation in chanting the prayers and lends musical beauty to the worship service. Knowledgeable lay members of the congregation may assist in chanting the service.

Our Service

The Friday night service consists of two services: the Kabbalat Shabbat Service ("Welcoming the Shabbat"), and the Ma'ariv Service. During the late spring, summer, and early fall, when sundown occurs after 6:30 PM, we may begin with Min'kha, the weekday afternoon service. More complete descriptions of the service can be found in Siddur Sim Shalom, the grey prayer book, on pages vii to xii.

1. Min'kha consists of
 - an introductory prayer, on pp. 1-2
 - the Amidah, the central prayer of petition, on pp. 3a/b-9,
 - Aleinu, on p. 11,
 - and the Mourners' Kaddish, on p. 12.
2. Kabbalat Shabbat pp. 13-27 is a combination of Psalms and songs to welcome the Shabbat. They help to set the appropriate mood. We usually abbreviate this service.
3. Ma'ariv pp. 28-54. The evening service is adapted from the regular weekday evening service.

Some of the important elements of Ma'ariv:

The Sh'ma and its accompanying blessings. (pp. 28-31)

At the center of this section is the Sh'ma, three paragraphs from the Torah. They declare our acceptance of God's sovereignty in our lives, tell of God's providence, and speak of following God's commandments. This section is preceded by the call to worship, the Barkhu, and blessings that praise God for creation and the gift of Torah. It is followed by blessings that speak of God's redemption and protection.

The Amidah (pp. 35a/b-38, alternative on pp. 39-40)

Recited silently while standing, the Amidah is the central prayer of all Jewish services. It celebrates God's presence as reflected in history and nature. It reminds us of God's holiness and the sanctity of the Shabbat. We end it with a prayer for peace.

The Kiddush (p.49)

This is a blessing over wine, which is also said at home at the start of the Shabbat meal. This custom of saying it during services originated in medieval times, when guests from out of town would be fed in the synagogue. The blessings themselves thank God for creating grapes, and for giving us the Sabbath day.

Prayers and Thoughts on Prayers

A Thought of God

The purpose of prayer is to be brought to His attention, to be listened to, to be understood by Him; not to know Him, but to be known to Him. To pray is to behold life not only as a result of His power, but as a concern of His will, or to strive to make our life a divine concern. For the ultimate aspiration of man is not to be a master, but an object of His knowledge. To live "in the light of His countenance," to become a thought of God—this is the true career of man.

-- Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel

A Prayer for the Ability to Pray

Dear God, as I pray, day after unpredictable day,
May the voice of my soul spring forth from my lips.
May I turn to You, God, in tears, in laughter, and in song.
And may my prayers be answered. Amen.

A Prayer for Daily Insight

Open my eyes, God. Help me to perceive what I have ignored, to uncover what I have forsaken, to find what I have been searching for. Remind me that I don't have to journey far to discover something new, for miracles surround me blessings and holiness abound. And you are near. Amen.
